

Tone Alerted Weather Radios

The Lancaster County Emergency Management Agency has requested that local municipalities assist in its efforts to promote tone alerted weather radios for every home, apartment, business and special needs facility in the County. These radios are activated from the National Weather Service in State College, Pa and can simultaneously provide warning to every home or business that has a Weather Radio, 24 hours a day. They can be activated for natural or man-made emergencies.

These radios are available through Hostetter's Hardware. They stock three different types or can order others if they are not in stock or they can be ordered online.

http://www.truevalue.com/catalog/search.cmd?form\_state=searchForm&hardwarianState=3&keyword=weather+radio

Ken Barto, of the Mount Joy Emergency Management Agency also states that this information will normally come though on local news stations on the television and local radio stations as an alert from the National Weather Service.